Class of Political development and democratic transition begin on Monday 19, 2018

Dear Student,

We inform you that the calendars of the lessons of 2 semester 2017_18 have been published on the Coris department online page: <http://www.coris.uniroma1.it/orario-lezioni-coris/17165> . We also invite you to complete the study plan, if you have not done so.

We inform you that in the second semester will be possible to attend the lessons of the course Political development and democratic transition (SPS/11) which will start on 19 February 2018, and can also be selected as an elective course. This course, Political development and democratic transition (SPS/11), can also be chosen as an elective course by those who have already submitted the study plan. For those that have already presented a study plan and want to choose Political development and democratic transition (SPS/11) as an elective course, have to request the cancellation of the already approved study plan by sending an email to magistralicoris@uniroma1.it. Once canceled, the study plan should be completed again.
